

QUESTION 5: Two Improvements to Make the Visualization More Informative

1. Use Different Colors

Assign different colors to each department, specialization, or career outcome. This will make the pathways easier to distinguish and improve the overall readability of the diagram.

2. Add Interactive Tooltips

Include interactive tooltips that display the exact number of students when the user hovers over a node or flow. This allows university administrators to quickly view detailed information without cluttering the visualization.